Meet the Author

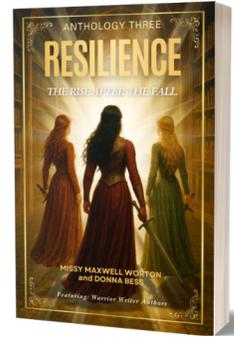

Meet Anne: Anne Day is an author, speaker and minister of the gospel whose work centers on identity in Christ. She is a published author in the Warrior Writer Resilience series, As For Me and My House magazine, and small business owner based outside of Nashville, Tennessee. Her upcoming debut book, Finding My Seat at the Table, is Anne's personal story of how an ordinary person can live a life of significance, even when you think you have nothing to offer. With raw honesty, and biblical truth, Anne invites readers to discover who they are through the eyes of Jesus, and shows how they too, can step into lives of purpose and eternal impact-no matter how ordinary they think they are.

An adoptive mom and wife of over 21 years, her life and work are shaped by the belief that our worth is not earned, achieved or proven, but revealed through the transforming love of God. Anne's deepest desire is for every person she encounters to leave knowing a little more clearly what God thinks of them.
